How to Enroll in Clinics :

2019-2010

BIDDING STARTS:

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 3, 9AM

BIDDING ENDS:

THURSDAY, APRIL 4, 5PM

1. Log in to helios.law.harvard.edu using your username and password.
2. Navigate to 'Courses' and select 'Registration.'
3. Select the clinics that you would like to preference. You may preference up to 6 clinics - if a clinic is offered in more than one semester, each semester counts as it's own preference.
4. You may rearrange your list of clinic preferences as many times as you'd like. Once you are ready to submit your final list of preferences, click the 'Submit' button at the bottom of the page.

- ▶ To secure your request, it is vital to hit the submit button. You should receive an email confirmation.
- ▶ Clinical preferencing results will be posted and available by:
Monday, April 8 at 5pm.
- ▶ By-applications clinics are not included in clinical preferencing. A list of by-application clinics can be found on the OCP website.
- ▶ If you have questions during the preferencing process, please contact clinical@law.harvard.edu or 617-495-5202.

Frequently Asked Questions

WHAT IS CLINICAL WORK?

Clinical work must be legal, and involve the application or interpretation of law, the formulation of legal policy, the drafting of legislation or regulations, or legal advocacy or representation. It should not be clerical in nature. All work must be supervised by a licensed attorney or a law professor. Work on political campaigns does not count for clinical credit, but may count for the pro bono requirement if the work is legal.

WHO CAN TAKE A CLINIC?

Students must complete their first year of law school before participating in a clinic at HLS. Due to Massachusetts rules on representing clients in criminal proceedings, two clinics require students be in their 3L year: the Criminal Justice Institute and the Criminal Prosecution Clinic (ITA Prosecution Perspectives).

HOW DO I FIND OUT WHAT EACH CLINIC DOES?

Please review the Clinical Skills Matrix to get a sense of what types of projects/cases/clients each clinic undertakes.

[Clinical Skills Matrix - In-House Clinics] (found on OCP website)

[Clinical Skills Matrix - Externship Clinics] (found on OCP website)

HOW ARE CLINICAL PROJECTS/CASES ASSIGNED TO STUDENTS ONCE ENROLLED?

Each clinic has its own internal processes, but most clinics will ask students to preference which projects/cases they would like to take on, and the clinic will match students to projects/assign them to cases. Each student is also assigned a clinical supervisor.

HOW MANY CLINICS CAN I TAKE EACH SEMESTER?

Students may only participate in one clinic at a time.

DOES EVERY CLINIC HAVE A REQUIRED SEMINAR/COURSE COMPONENT?

Yes - every clinic has a required clinical seminar or course that students must take prior to or concurrently with their clinical enrollment.

Frequently Asked Questions

ARE THERE ANY CLINICS WITH ADDITIONAL PRE/CO-REQUISITES?

The Criminal Justice Institute, Criminal Prosecution Clinic, and Harvard Legal Aid Bureau all require students to take Evidence and Trial Advocacy Workshop.

The Harvard Dispute Systems Design Clinic is only open to students who have completed the Negotiation Workshop.

Students wishing to apply to the Sports Law Clinic must first enroll in one of Prof. Carfagna's courses.

HOW ARE CLINICS GRADED?

Most clinics are graded on the HLS scale. Students receive a grade for the clinical component and a grade for the classroom component.

The Harvard Legal Aid Bureau, Capital Punishment Clinic, and Independent Clinical Projects are graded Credit/Fail.

CAN I DROP A CLINIC ONCE I'VE ENROLLED?

Students can drop from a clinic up until the clinic's add/drop deadline. Clinics line up clients, cases, and projects well before the semester begins and depend on their enrollment numbers to determine how many cases to take. Thus, clinics have add/drop deadlines that are always earlier than the regular course add/drop deadlines. Dropping a clinic after the deadline will result in a "Withdrawal" notation on your transcript. If you drop a clinic, you are dropped from both the clinic and the required clinical seminar/course.

HOW DO CLINICAL WAITLISTS WORK?

Clinical waitlists work like course waitlists in Helios. During the add/drop period, waitlist offers are automatically sent out when seats become available. Clinical waitlists tend to move significantly between registration in the spring and the following academic year.

HOW DO CLINICAL CREDITS WORK?

Most clinics allow students to choose how many clinical credits they would like to enroll for. The number of clinical credits you select will translate to the number of hours per week that you will be committed to clinical work. You may adjust the number of clinical credits you are enrolled for through Helios, up until the clinic's drop deadline.

3 clinical credits = 12 hours/week

4 clinical credits = 16 hours/week

5 clinical credits = 20 hours/week

Frequently Asked Questions

I NOTICE THAT CLINICS DO NOT HAVE SET TIMEBLOCKS. HOW DO I DETERMINE MY CLINICAL WORK SCHEDULE?

Once a student has been assigned a direct clinical supervisor, they work with that supervisor to establish a clinical work schedule that fits with the rest of their academic schedule. Some clinics may have more detailed requirements about when (and where) the clinical work must be done. Most externship clinics require students to have at least two full days available for clinical work.

DOES MY CLINICAL WORK COUNT TOWARDS THE HLS PRO BONO REQUIREMENT?

Clinical work that is for a non-profit entity will count towards the HLS pro bono requirement. Clinical credits are automatically converted into pro bono hours at a set rate of 48 hours per clinical credit after grades are submitted. Please contact the Office of Clinical and Pro Bono Programs if you have questions about whether a clinic will qualify.

I WANT TO ENROLL IN THE SAME CLINIC FOR THE ENTIRE YEAR. IS THAT POSSIBLE?

If you enroll in a fall clinic (or fall-winter clinic), it is possible for you to continue your work into the winter and/or spring by applying for an advanced clinical through the Office of Clinical and Pro Bono Programs.

Once a student has enrolled in a clinic through Helios, it is not possible for them to enroll again (for example, a student in the fall International Human Rights clinic will not be able to accept a waitlist offer through Helios for the spring International Human Rights clinic). Students who have taken a semester of a clinic and would like to continue must apply through the advanced clinical program.

Students will participate in an externship with the Roderick & Solange MacArthur Justice Center (“MJC”) in Washington, D.C., working on appeals before federal circuit courts and/or the U.S. Supreme Court that raise important issues related to civil rights and the criminal justice system.

MJC is one of the nation’s premier civil rights organizations and champions criminal justice reform through litigation, in areas that include police misconduct, rights of the accused, issues facing indigent prisoners, the death penalty, and the rights of detainees. The organization’s Washington, D.C. office focuses specifically on appellate litigation as a vehicle for achieving change in these areas.

The Government Lawyer: U.S. Attorney clinic allows students to examine firsthand the roles and responsibilities of a federal prosecutor. Students are placed at the United States Attorney's Office in Boston. Work may include research, writing, witness preparation, working with evidence, and attending hearings.

All students must complete a lengthy security clearance process by the Department of Justice, which involves numerous forms and fingerprinting. This process may take up to eight weeks for final clearance, which is then valid for only six months.

Students spend the entire Spring semester (except for Spring break) in Washington, D.C. working as legal interns in a variety of federal offices while taking an evening course on government lawyering. Placements are principally in federal government offices where lawyers conduct research and provide legal advice and assistance on policy, legislative or regulatory matters, rather than investigating and litigating cases.

Students may choose to start the clinic early by spending the Winter Term in Washington, D.C. working full-time at their placement offices.

In partnership with the Public Defender Service for the District of Columbia, one of the nation's leading public-defense agencies, students will identify complex and cross-cutting legal issues that arise systemically across the agency's cases and that entail high-stakes consequences for both its clients and for the fair administration of justice in the District of Columbia.

The Impact Defense Initiative will then serve as either outside co-counsel to the affected clients or as a strategic litigation consultant to the agency itself, with the ultimate goal being to develop creative legal arguments, to map out a strategic litigation campaign, and to put that campaign into action through effective and sophisticated motions practice and advocacy.
