

US NAVY JAG CORPS

FALL EXTERNSHIP PROGRAM

Are you interested in public service, travel, camaraderie, and rewarding work in a global law firm of over 1,000 attorneys? An internship with the Navy Judge Advocate General's (JAG) Corps is more than a high-quality legal experience, it's an adventure.

WHAT TO EXPECT

The Navy JAG Corps offers summer internships and school year externships to law students wishing to gain valuable legal experience, the opportunity for academic credit, and greater insight into life as a Navy judge advocate. As a Navy JAG Corps fall extern, you'll be assigned to a legal command or staff and gain experience in traditional Navy JAG Corps practice areas like military justice (criminal prosecution and defense), legal assistance (providing general legal advice to Sailors and their families), and command services (advising military commanders and their staffs). Other practice areas include national security law, admiralty and maritime law, appellate litigation, administrative law, civil litigation, and environmental law. Opportunities may be available at any Navy JAG Corps office within the United States. To learn more and access our application, visit our website through the QR code below. Applications should be emailed to NavyJAGInternships@us.navy.mil.
