

April 4, 2024

To our honored alumnae—

It is a pleasure to welcome you back to campus for what I know will be an engaging two days focused on the past, present, and future of our alumnae at Harvard Law and in the legal profession. Celebration 70+ continues our tradition of commemorating the pioneering female HLS graduates of the Class of 1953 and the vast contributions women at HLS have made to the law and the world.

We hope that this year's celebration will offer many ways for you to engage with other participants, whether by reflecting on past triumphs or engaging in frank discussions of challenging topics. The program features many notable speakers, including HLS faculty, law firm leaders, and representatives from organizations focused on inclusion, as well as workshops on global trends in women's rights, gender identity and gender equity, and strategies for succeeding on corporate boards (to name just a few of the celebration's offerings). We are particularly thrilled to be hosting fireside chats with United States Solicitor General Elizabeth B. Prelogar '08 and with former United States Attorney General Loretta Lynch '84.

This celebration has been made possible through the hard work of this year's organizing committee, and of dedicated volunteers, donors, and sponsors. Please join us this weekend in thanking them, along with the members of the Class of 1953. They remain a beacon of inspiration to all the women who have followed in their footsteps.

Wherever you are coming from, personally and professionally, we are confident that Celebration 70+ will hold something of value for you, whether it be a takeaway from a discussion or a new connection with another alumna. Thank you for joining us: it is your presence, your work, and your willingness to participate that makes this event so special.

John C.P. Goldberg

Interim Dean
Carter Professor of General Jurisprudence
Harvard Law School

Celebration 70+ Attendees,

Welcome to the ninth Celebration of Alumnae at Harvard Law School! We are honored to have you here as a part of Celebration 70+, commemorating seventy years since the first class of women graduated from Harvard Law School. In 1953, fourteen brave women received law degrees, transforming the law school, the legal profession, and the world at large. Today, women comprise more than half of the law students on campus, and we have more than 14,300 female graduates in our ever-growing community.

While we traditionally would have marked Celebration 70 in the Fall of 2023, because of the pandemic and resulting calendar shifts, we are celebrating together a few months later (which is a “plus” for us all). As always, we are grateful to this community of women for rallying together on an abbreviated timeframe.

Our program committee has put together a fantastic line up of diverse, cross-generational voices. We are excited to offer panels on a wide range of topics from the latest developments in technology and finance to the human rights challenges women face in the U.S. and globally, among many others. And of course, we are looking forward to the keynote event with the Solicitor General of the United States, Elizabeth B. Prelogar '08, and a fireside chat with former United States Attorney General Loretta Lynch '84.

We also hope that you find time to connect with colleagues old and new. Our community includes leaders in law, business, finance, academia, government, non-profits, and the arts, and we hope Celebration 70+ will provide new opportunities to work together to create lasting, real-world change.

HLS Alumnae Fact

Susan Estrich '74 was the first woman elected president of the Harvard Law Review.

Finally, we want to extend our deepest appreciation to all our volunteers, including from the Harvard Law School Association Women's Alliance and the Women's Law Association, and the Harvard Law School Alumni Office, namely Pete Mumma, Kelsey Brogna, Francie Sullivan and Donnaree Wynter Grant. Without this group of dedicated individuals, this event would not have been possible.

Freedom from the Inner Critic (Austin Hall 101 East)

In this session, Elizabeth will cover why freedom from the inner critic is especially valuable for lawyers working in a competitive environment and how lawyers can use self-compassion as a tool in their everyday life and careers.

This interactive workshop takes a scientific, evolutionary perspective on the inner critic to uncover how the inner critic was created, what purpose it serves, and how lawyers can transform harsh judgments into wise discernments. Elizabeth will use psychological strategies, wisdom from ancient cultures, and meditation to break free from a harsh inner voice and find empowering ways to think about the past, present, and future.
