Eligibility:

This course is open only to JD students during the summer following their first or second year of law school. The internship may be paid or unpaid.

Students may not enroll in Writing in Conjunction with Summer Work Experience after graduating from the Law School or completing the requirements for the JD degree. International students on the F-1 student visa should be able to use Curricular Practical Training (CPT) work authorization to enroll in this writing credit. Please contact the International Office for instructions regarding CPT.

Academic Information & Requirements:

Students will receive one writing credit for each summer they are enrolled in Writing in Conjunction with Summer Work Experience provided the academic requirements noted below are met. The writing credit will be recorded in the fall term following the internship and the final written paper must be submitted no later than September 30th; papers will be graded in accordance with the Law School's regular grading system.

At the end of the internship, students must submit a 20 to 25 page paper on (1) a law topic related to but not directly overlapping with legal issues explored and worked on during the summer internship, or, (2) a comparative law or legal profession topic related to the country in which the internship took place. Students are encouraged to include a comparative dimension in their papers.

The credits for Independent Written Work in Connection with Summer Work Experience will count toward the maximum number of writing credits a student may apply toward the graduation requirements. This written work may not count toward the Analytical Paper requirement.

In addition:

- The petition to enroll should be submitted to the Registrar's Office no later than April 15th.
- Papers must be supervised by a full-time HLS faculty member.
- The paper must be submitted to your faculty supervisor no later than September 30th of the fall term in which you are receiving credit.
- Students must submit to the Registrar a letter from the employer verifying completion of the internship no later than the Tuesday following Labor Day in the fall term following the internship.
- Grades will not be recorded on the transcript until the letter from the employer verifying completion of the internship has been submitted to the Registrar. If a student fails to turn in a paper and/or submit a letter from his/her employer, the student will receive an "F" for the written work on his or her transcript.
- CPT authorization is employer-specific, location-specific, and dates-specific, so you can only work in the US during the authorized CPT period at the authorized employer site. CPT is not a general employment authorization. Interning or working with an employer outside the specifically authorized CPT period (i.e., starting earlier or finishing later than the specified dates) and/or at an unauthorized site is a violation of your lawful F-1 student status which could make you ineligible for future immigration benefits.
